

UnWanted Activities on Premises (UWAP)

B.C. Trespass Act
 This guide is prepared by the Safe Streets Coalition to assist people in understanding how the new amendments to the B.C. Trespass Act may be applied when dealing with problem activities on urban premises. You should consult your own legal counsel for advice before taking any action or deciding on policy.
 Please refer to:
www.safestreetcoalition.com

- Related Acts
- B.C. Trespass Act
  - Workers Compensation Act
  - Personal Information Protection Act
  - Criminal Code of Canada
  - Occupiers Liability Act
  - Human Rights Act

Police Not Involved (upward arrow)

Police Involved (downward arrow)

Note: Consult your legal counsel in advance of a situation like this arising. Serve oral or written notice of prohibition and if they remain, escort them outside. If they resist call police immediately. Never unnecessarily risk injury to yourself or another person, including the trespasser.

resistance by the trespasser will raise priority level for police response.